NOW WHAT D'YE THINK OF THAT

The Goldfield Sun says: "Carson has always been more or less afflicted with the incendiary."

Because a half drunken fool sets fire to a fence, the Sun must needs attempt to show the historical knowledge of its pin headed editor, and this same sharp pated fellow must rake up a lot of ancient history to point a moral and adorn a tale.

An editor as hard up for stuff as this, who has to rake up things from as far back as does this one, ordinarily wears a hat about four and one half inches in diameter, chews tobacco and spends a lot of his time sitting in front of some saloon or hotel raking up old scandals and impressing strangers with his knowledge of old times.

When he is not in this class, he can be found in the extra conservative, pursed up lip long haired bunch, afraid to come out and boost, only remembering the bad times, and the hard times, in the places he formerly was permitted to live.

Forget it.

When Senator Knox—the attorney general—declared that the president would not "run amuck" against the trusts and corporations did he mean that the president would only make a good showing politically, but not do enough to reduce trust prices such as recommending tariff reduction?

As the government must pay the salaries of the meat inspectors, it is only fair that the packers should pay the salaries of the Chicago dog-catchers.

Joseph Crow, recently republican pos master at Omaha and former member of the Nebraska legislature, has been found guilty in the federal court on the charge of impeding justice. He was mixed up in the land fraud cases as so many other republicans have been.

PATHETIC CASE OF MRS. THAW

PITTSBURG, Pa.,—Close friends of Mrs. William Thaw here fear that she cannot survive the shock of learning of the tragedy enacted by her son, Harry Kendall Thaw, in Madison Square Garden, New York. Mrs. Thaw is well advanced in years and has been in delicate health for several years. She has had a great amount of trouble, and how keenly she took all of it to heart is entirely unknown to the public, and only partially to her most intimate friends.

"This has been a very, very sad year to me," remarked Mrs. Thaw to one of her closest friends here several months before sailing for Europe. "In the first place there was the marriage of my son to Miss Nesbit. That was bad enough, and quite more than I could bear. Then I had this trouble about that church window (referring to the suit entered against her for a memorial church window which she claimed had not come up to specifications and refused to pay for). But on top of all that I have lost all my jewelry—all of it—with the exception of these two rings."

Mrs. Thaw's jewelry that has been stolen was valued at $40,000. The robbery took place while Mrs. Thaw was in the East.

Just before leaving for Europe Mrs. Thaw was speaking to this friend again, and said: "I am feeling much better now. I am getting these matters all off my mind, and am so happy with the prospect of a good long tour of Europe and rest."

A Minneapolis insurance man has been sent to jail for three years. His policy was not good.

Dowle told a Chicago court he never earned a dollar in his life. Maybe that fellow is Elijah, after all.

The old saw has it that "every dog has his day," and the formula for Chicago packing-house sausage persuades us that most dogs have had theirs.

Perhaps the linotype operator didn't make so much of an error, after all when he made it read "the heir presumptive to the English throne."

"Daddy," said little Willie, "don't tell me any more about Capt. Kidd—tell me about the life insurance presidents."

Exports of meat and meat products from the United States in the last eleven months of the fiscal year ending with May aggregated over $189,000,000. During the next eleven months the muck-rake will make that look like 30 cents.

W. J. Bryan, has arrived in London and says that the monster reception in New York must not be understood as an endorsement of his candidacy in 1908, as it would not be fair to other candidates. What other candidates?
